

PRESIDENT WILSON VETOES PROHIBITION BILL

MINE WORKER OFFICIALS POWERLESS TO RESCIND THE COAL STRIKE ORDER

Say They Cannot Respond to Presidents Appeal to Rescind Strike Order

President Wilson Issues Statement Declaring Strike Immoral and Illegal

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 27—Officials of the United Mine Workers said they were powerless to rescind the strike order.

William Green, secretary-treasurer said they cannot respond to President Wilson's appeal to rescind the strike order without action from a convention such as met at Cleveland.

Program of Law Enforcement
Washington, Oct. 27—Cabinet members are preparing a program of law enforcement to protect the public in general from any emergency if the coal strike of miners is put into effect.

The government has taken no stand on the merits of the controversy publicly. The blame cannot be regarded as one-sided, but the miners if they consent to arbitration as proposed by President Wilson will be assured of fair, impartial consideration.

Congress took a hand today, there being debates by Senator Borah and others following which Senator Thomas of Colorado withdrew a resolution he had presented.

Representative Connolly of Texas will soon present resolutions endorsing the President's statement.

Another matter being considered is the provision which so far has exempted farmers and labor organizations from the provisions of the law which governs monopoly.

Only Government Pressure Can Force Operators to Be Just

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 27—Only government pressure can force the coal mine operators to give the miners "just consideration," Acting President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers declared in a statement made at his home today.

When interviewed further, he stated he was "positively astounded" at the President's action.

President Wilson's statement on the threatened coal strike follows:

On Sept. 23, 1919, the convention of the United Mine Workers of America at Cleveland, Ohio, adopted a proposal declaring that all contracts in the bituminous fields shall be declared as having automatically expired Nov. 1, 1919, and making various demands including a 60 per cent increase in wages and the adoption of a six hour day and a five day week and providing that, in the event a satisfactory wage agreement should not be secured for the central competitive fields before Nov. 1, 1919, the national officers should be authorized and instructed to call a general strike of all bituminous miners and mine workers throughout the United States effective Nov. 1, 1919.

"Gravest Step Ever Proposed"

Pursuant to these instructions, the officers of this organization have issued a call to make the strike effective Nov. 1. This is one of the gravest steps ever proposed in this country, affecting the economic welfare and the domestic health of the people. It is proposed to abrogate an agreement as to wages which was made with the sanction of the United States fuel administration and which was to run during the continuance of the war, but not beyond April 1, 1920.

The strike is proposed at a time when the government is making the most earnest efforts to reduce the cost of living and has appealed with success to other classes of workers to postpone similar disputes until a reasonable opportunity has been afforded for dealing with the cost of living.

It is recognized that the strike would practically shut off the country's supply of its principal fuel at a time when interference with that supply is calculated to create a serious fuel famine.

Declares War Still is a Fact

All interests would be affected by a strike of this character and its victims must be not the rich only, but the poor and the needy as well—those least able to provide in advance for a fuel supply for domestic use.

It would involve the shutting down of countless industries and the throwing out of employment a large part of the workers of the country. It would involve stopping the operations of railroads, electric light and gas plants, street railway lines and other public utilities and the shipping to and from this country, thus preventing our giving aid to the allied countries with supplies they so seriously need.

The country is confronted with this strike at a time when the war itself is still a fact, when the world is still in suspense after negotiations for peace, when our troops are still being transported and when their means of transport is in urgent need of fuel.

From whatever angle the subject may be viewed, it is a fact that such a strike in such circumstances would be the most far-reaching plan ever presented in this country to limit the facilities of production and distribution of all the necessities of life.

Strike Unjustifiable and Unlawful

Under these circumstances it is not only unjustifiable; it is unlawful.

The action proposed has apparently been taken without vote upon the specific proposition by the individual members of the United Mine Workers of America throughout the United States, an almost unprecedented proceeding. I cannot believe that any right of any American worker needs for its protection the taking of this extraordinary step, and I am convinced that when the time and manner are considered, it constitutes a fundamental attack which is wrong both morally and legally, upon the rights of society and upon the welfare of the country.

I am convinced that individual members of the United Mine Workers would not vote, upon full consideration, in favor of such strike under these circumstances.

When a movement reaches the point where it appears to involve practically the entire productive capacity of the country with respect to one of the most vital necessities of daily domestic and industrial life, and when the movement is asserted in the circumstances I have stated and in a manner calculated to involve the maximum of danger to the public welfare in this critical hour of our country's life, the public interest becomes the paramount consideration.

Promises Action to Protect Public

In these circumstances I solemnly request both the national and the local officers and also the individual members of the United Mine Workers of America to recall all order looking to a strike on Nov. 1, and to take whatever steps may be necessary to prevent any stoppage of work.

It is time for plain speaking. These matters with which we now deal touch not only the welfare of a class, but vitally concern the well being, the comfort and the very life of all the people. I feel it my duty in the public interest to declare that any attempt to carry out the purposes of this strike and thus to paralyze the industry of the country with

An Effort Being Made to Link Labor Unions and Agricultural Societies to Produce this Result

(By United Press)
Cleveland, O., Oct. 27—An effort to link international labor unions and agricultural associations in a gigantic bureau to beat down the cost of foodstuffs is now under way.

Stone, Grand Chief of the railway brotherhoods said the plans were to eliminate the middlemen and have direct machinery between farmers and consumers. The associations contemplated joining are the National Grange and the American Federation of Labor.

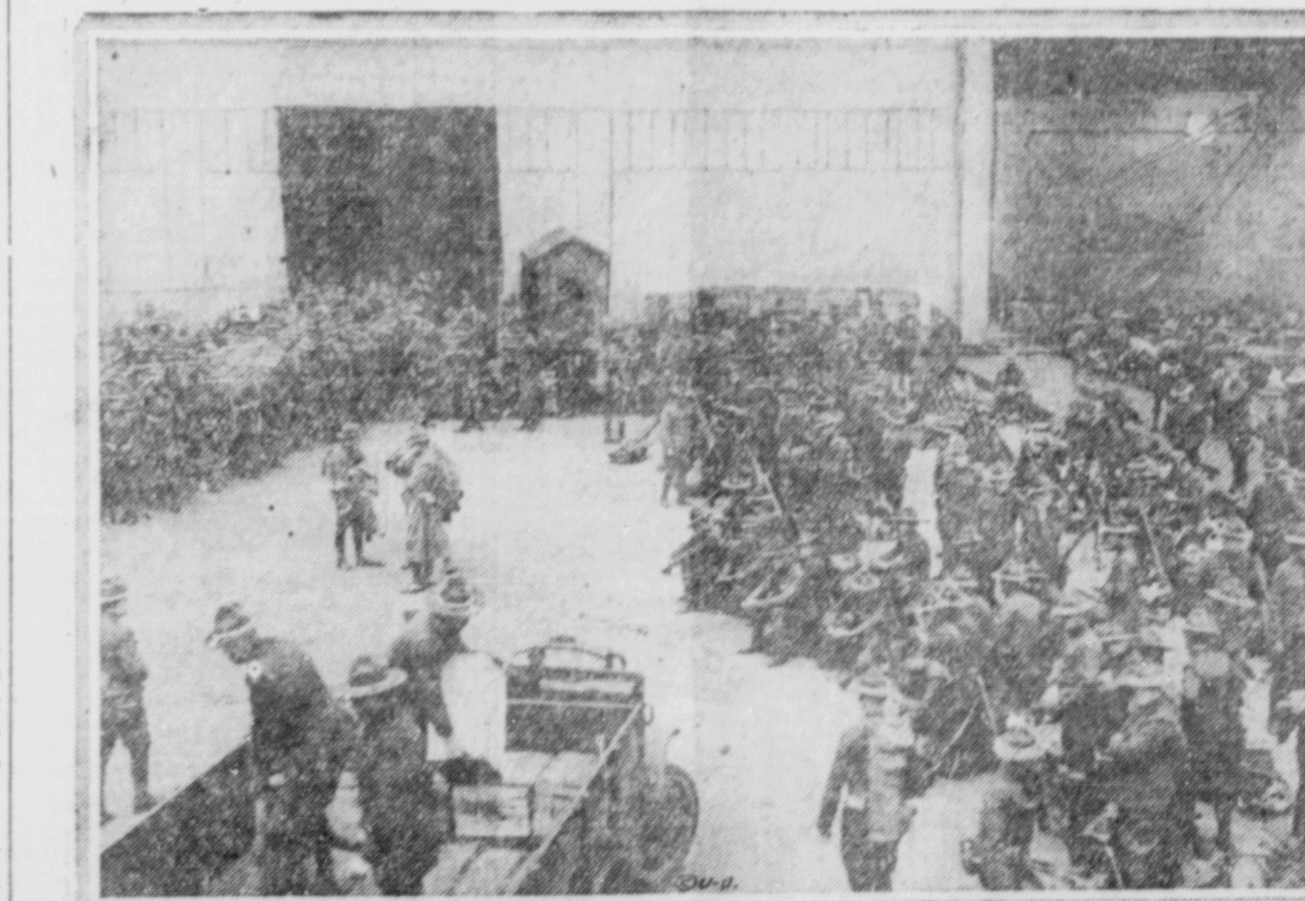

Stone said the reports from the four brotherhoods will play a leading part in the get-together movement.

Washington, Oct. 27—(3:20 p. m.)—President Wilson today vetoed the national prohibition enforcement act passed by congress to enforce war time and constitutional prohibition.

The president vetoed it because of that part of the legislation referring to war time prohibition.

Prohibition Act Up to President

Will Become Law Tomorrow Night Without President's Signature

Washington, Oct. 27—The national prohibition act passed to enforce war time prohibition and the constitutional act were taken by Secretary Tamm to President Wilson shortly after noon for consideration.

The constitutional act would be effective January 16 and the war time act until peace is declared.

Unless the President acts before midnight tomorrow, the constitutional act becomes law without his signature.

His position in the matter was unknown. It had been thought that if Attorney General Palmer brought in an opinion testifying to the validity of the measure that he would sign.

The bill makes it a crime to sell liquor or any compound or beverage having more than one-half of one per cent alcohol.

Internal revenue department, the department of justice and local state officials have imposed on them the duty to prosecute offenders. Places where illegally sold are declared public nuisances and owners and tenants of the building are liable.

Missing Aviators Found Dead

Murdered by Two Mexican Fishermen While Dying of Thirst—Write Messages to Mothers

(By United Press)

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 27—When Lieut. C. H. Connolly and Frederick Waterhouse, aviators lost in Mexico, were dying of hunger and thirst, each scrawled messages to his mother. They were produced here today, telling the last chapter but one in the tragedy when they were lost while flying from Yuma to San Diego, on August 21.

The final act was performed by two Mexican fishermen who murdered the aviators.

Lieut. Connolly wrote: "Dearest Mother. My time to die is here. I will be welcome after all the suffering and thirst I have endured. I tried to live a good life. Wear no mourning. Love to Dora, Hazel and Ethel."

Waterhouse wrote: "Dearest Mother. We have been here now ten days. No sign of help. Water nearly gone. Writing short letter. Don't grieve. All my love to you and dad."

Another note told of their drinking water from the airplane radiator and their trying unsuccessfully for two days to catch fish for food.

Three Labor Conventions Held this Week

In Washington, in Which Labor Men and Women Throughout the World Will Attend

Washington, Oct. 27—Washington this week has three conventions of labor including the World Workers which caucus in the capitol this week the National Federation of Trade Workers and the International Labor Conference of the League of Nations which opens its first session on Wednesday.

Men and women known throughout the world of organized labor will be in attendance. Through these three organizations it will be sought to impress public sentiment and capital with the necessity for reform in social and economic legislation and procedure.

Some of the points for consideration will be the eight hour day, women and children in industry, arbitration, strikes and lockouts, the sharing of profits with the workers, etc.

In July the first meetings in this regard were held in Amsterdam, Holland, with Samuel Gompers and Daniel Tobin representing America combined with British delegates to reduce the influence of Germany in the labor world. Germany through its nationalization system of industries had millions of men massed to throw into production.

Miners Stand Pat on Strike Order

Reply to President's Appeal will be Drafted—State Miners Only Average $70 per Month

(By United Press)

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 27—Officials of the United Mine Workers are standing pat on their strike order.

Acting President of the United Mine Workers said the strike situation was unchanged.

A reply to the President's appeal will soon be drafted by the executive board meeting at Indianapolis on Wednesday.

Lewis stated the miners have averaged only $70 a month for the last twelve months. In explaining the demands for a 60 per cent wage increase and a shorter day.

Both Minnesota Senators Voted Against the Johnson Amendment

(By United Press)

Washington, Oct. 27—By a vote of 38 to 40 the senate defeated the Johnson amendment to the peace treaty to equalize the voting strength of the league of nations. The vote came unexpectedly this morning after Senator Lodge had asked for unanimous consent for consideration of the measure this afternoon.

"I see no reason why we cannot have a vote right now," said Senator Lodge, reconsidering his motion.

Republicans voting against it were Cole, Edge of New Jersey, Kellogg and Nelson of Minnesota, Keys, McCumber of North Dakota; McNary, Sterling of South Dakota.

Senator Gore was the only democrat who voted for the amendment.

Immediately after its defeat, Senator Johnson of California introduced a second amendment, seeking virtually to accomplish what had been desired by the Johnson amendment.

Final results would not have been changed by a later vote as all absentees were paired off with those voting against it.

The Moses amendment now up for consideration would bar any colony of Great Britain from voting where a question concerning England was up for consideration by the league.

When the Moses amendment was called up, Senators Hatcher, Shield and Mace engaged in debate.

It was believed that the amendment allowing one vote per nation in the league would be acted on before the Moses amendment.

Practical Application "Love Your Neighbor"

New York, Oct. 27—The practical application of the "love your neighbor" principle by Americans is necessary to restore normal trade conditions, Edward Filene, Boston director of the United Chamber of Commerce told the New York clerical conference here.

BADGER APPLE CROP GOOD

Big Boost in Market is Grading Law Result

Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—Wisconsin's apple crop for 1919 has had a big boost in the market notwithstanding that the quality of the crop was much below the average.

"The high place our apples have taken in the market," said the entomologist of the state department of agriculture, "is due to the enforcement of the apple grading law. Virtually all the big apple growers of the state have endeavored to comply with the law."

"The poor quality of the crop this season made it particularly difficult to grade apples properly," said the state entomologist.

Baltimore, Oct. 26.—The nineteenth annual convention of the United Textile Workers of America, in session here, refused to ratify a motion introduced to put the union on record as favoring the Plumb plan for railroad ownership.

The textile men's indorsement of the Plumb plan was prevented largely by the advice of the president, John Golden, who advised a policy of "watchful waiting."

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Spanish Fortune Teller an Attraction at Chamber of Commerce Social Function

A unique and interesting feature of the Halloween party, to be given by the House and Social committee of the Chamber of Commerce on Friday evening, October 31st at Gardner hall, will be a Spanish fortune teller, who will foretell past, present and future, of all seeking her services at a very nominal price.

The committee has been advised that Mademoiselle La Guevere, a handsome Spanish maiden, who has been visiting friends in St. Paul will be in Brainerd on Halloween night. A telegram to her father urging that they visit this city met with a very cordial response and indicated that she will be present. Her father stipulates that a suitable booth be arranged in the corner of the room and that during the time when his pretty daughter is forecasting, the future of different individuals, perfect quiet be maintained about the booth.

This announcement will undoubtedly please a large number of those who are planning to enjoy this big community dancing party and if Dan Cupid is assisted in his work by the forecast of the pretty Spanish girl, it will not be surprising. Few of us can look into the future as do these talented girls from the southland and it is very fortunate that the committee was able to have her stop in Brainerd and meet the young people on Halloween night. It is suggested that the young ladies and gentlemen, as well as older heads be prepared for some surprises, which in many cases are bound to be pleasant.

Minneapolis, Oct. 27.—One woman was killed and another woman and two men were injured last night when a limousine in which they were riding plunged over a 30 foot embankment on West Franklin ave.

The automobile had been taken from a garage at 2612 Lyndale av. S. by B. E. Tracy, 3137 Clinton Ave. an employee, according to the police. THE MYSTERY LADY

By JACK LAWTON.

The residents of the pretty village were excited over her coming. It was seldom that anything out of the ordinary happened and there was much interesting speculation as to her purpose in staying among them. It was not as though the arrival had been there before, or had friends in the vicinity. Neither had she seen the Pryor place, it was positively known, until the day when she alighted from an afternoon train and walked idly down the main street.

The old vacated house attracted her in passing, for she had paused before its broken gate and then walked briskly inside. Miss Peters walking, then saw the lady go over to the hotel where she had been known to ask questions concerning the owner of the house. Finding that he had long deserted the place for the city she sought out his agent in a grocery store and rented the desolate residence.

The new tenant was pretty, Miss Peters admitted, "in an extreme cuffed sort of way." Certain it proved that the young woman was "extremely pretty." Also, she possessed a pleasing manner which charmed the storekeepers to whom she went for supplies and information.

"I will need a woman to help me at once," she said. "Could you suggest some person in your locality?"

The grocer was glad to suggest Ann Trimble, and promptly Ann came.

It was a case of mutual admiration from the first. Ann stood in awe before her lovely, modish young mistress—while Judith Gay smiled into the wrinkled face of the gaunt old woman.

"You are exactly the one I shall need," she said graciously, "to look after me—generally."

The taking of the house was an impulse, Judith Gay explained. The beautiful country had fascinated her so that she wished to remain to enjoy the fancy while it lasted.

"I have decided to furnish only three rooms," she confided to the formidable Miss Peters. Ann will buy for me what is needed here in town." And Ann did; that was the mystery part of it.

When a beautiful woman arrives in an isolated country village with merely a suitcase for baggage, and furnishes immediately part of a tumble-down house for occupancy, there is surely something unusual in the proceeding. "Sunnyville" discussing its new neighbor, in vine-screened porches, ran the gamut of possibilities.

She might be a female detective on duty, or an actual murderess in hiding. Whatever her secret, the young woman appeared to enjoy herself mightily. She could be heard singing about the tangled garden mornings, or chatting amiably with Ann Trimble on a side veranda at twilight.

Ann bought many delicacies at the grocery and Judith Gay visited the austere dressmaker for the purpose of having frocks made of dimity.

The stranger looked more charming, if that could be possible, in her new simple frocks, than she had in the modish gown.

"You're like a bit of a girl," Ann said adoringly.

"She's an actress, that what she is," the dressmaker dryly remarked.

Sunnyville's two unattached men—a wife-hunting widower and a wife-shy bachelor, braved the mockery of the town to call upon the mysterious lady.

The widower departed discouraged while the sought-after bachelor was decidedly peeved.

"She can keep to herself if she is set on doing it as she says," he announced. "I for one won't bother her."

But thereafter, though he formed a habit of passing many times the old Pryor house, his mistress continued joyously bent upon her own society.

It was when the distinguished appearing man began his visits, that the entire town drew within itself in shocked surprise. This fine looking stranger was wont to arrive on an early morning train from the city to spend the day with Judith Gay in her garden. Miss Peters heard the girl give a startled cry at his first coming, then she had actually seen the man catch the mystery lady close in an embrace. "It was scandalous that townspeople must witness such going on."

She hinted caustically at the occurrence when Judith crossed to the hedge. "You're going to marry him of course," said Miss Peters. "Oh! No I'm not," laughed the girl. Then unexpectedly Sunnyville was devoid of its one interest. The Mystery Lady had disappeared.

"Left town on the night train with that city fellow," the station agent said.

Miss Peters indignantly sought out Ann Trimble, who was closing up the house doors.

"She'll not come back here," said Miss Peters.

"She will," Ann replied. "She's gone into the city with her husband to arrange for fixing this old place up. Seems like she wanted to spend the summer in the country. An' her husband joked her about it that she wouldn't dare to. So she came on here herself to show him. She's had him address her letters to me, so there'd be no mistake about getting 'em." Ann snapped the door shut. "Reckon this is going to be a pretty fine place," she said proudly, "an' reckon I know some folks who won't be invited to call."

Catarrrhal Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All druggists 75c. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

Etiquette of Walking.

When in the street, especially in daytime, a lady is not supposed to take a gentleman's arm, unless she is infirm or elderly, though she may properly do so at night. When walking with two ladies a gentleman may walk on the outside, or the inside, or, rather, the side from which he can best guard his companion or companions from obstacles or danger. It is not good form to take a lady's arm, unless to assist her in some way.

CELLARS ARE TAXED

It's all very well to tell a fellow to order his coal now, but the cellars of this Republic are taxed to their uttermost already.—Columbia Record.

PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION

As President of the United States and as President of the American Red Cross, I recommend and urge a generous response to the Third Red Cross Roll Call which opens on November the second with the observance of Red Cross Sunday and appropriately closes on November the eleventh, the first anniversary of the signing of the Armistice.

Twenty million adults joined the Red Cross during the war, prompted by patriotic desire to render service to their country and to the cause for which the United States was engaged in war. Our patriotism should stand the test of peace as well as the test of war, and it is an intelligently patriotic program which the Red Cross proposes, a continuance of service to our soldiers and sailors who look to it for many things, and transference to the problems of peace at home of the experience and methods which it acquired during the war.

It is on membership more than money contributions that the stress of the present campaign is laid, for the Red Cross seeks to associate the people in welfare work throughout the land, especially in those communities where neither official nor unofficial provision has been made for adequate public health and social service.

It is in the spirit of democracy that the people should undertake their own welfare activities, and the National Red Cross wisely intends to exert upon community action a stimulating and coordinating influence and to place the energies of the organization behind all sound public health and welfare agencies.

The American Red Cross does not purpose indefinite prolongation of its relief work abroad, a policy which would lay an unjust burden upon our own people and tend to undermine the self-reliance of the people relieved, but there is a necessary work of completion to be performed before the American Red Cross can honorably withdraw from Europe. The Congress of the United States has imposed upon Red Cross a continuing responsibility abroad by authorizing the Secretary of War to transfer to the American Red Cross such surplus army medical supplies and supplementary and dietary food stuffs now in Europe as shall not be required by the army, to be used by the Red Cross to relieve the distress in certain countries of Europe as a result of the war.

To finance these operations, to conclude work which was begun during the war, and to carry out some comparatively inexpensive constructive plans for assisting peoples in eastern Europe to develop their own welfare organizations, the American Red Cross requires, in addition to membership fees, a sum of money, small in comparison with the gifts pouring into its treasury by our generous people during the war.

Both the great enduring domestic program and the lesser temporary foreign program of the Red Cross deserve enthusiastic support, and I venture to hope that its peace-time membership will exceed rather than fall below its impressive war-membership.

Six Canadian Bye-Elections

(By United Press)
 Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 27.—By-elections in six constituencies in Canada were under way today, voters being asked to elect men on three main issues—nationalization of the railways; civil re-establishment of soldiers and question of further gratuities to service men, and prohibition. General opinion in various provinces has it that inter-provincial trade in liquor will be sanctioned. Prohibitionists seek to stop the import as well as sale of liquor.

Nationalization of railways, urged by the government, will be a hard fought issue. The Unionists have urged election of their men on the proposition of taking over all lines in the Dominion except the Canadian Pacific. The government could never finance sufficiently that road, which it is said, is not in need of government aid to make it a successfully-conducted system.

Increased pay to soldiers, discharged and in service, is urged by the Unionist party. The soldiers of Canada already receive a larger gratuity than in any Anglo-Saxon country, Liberals insist.

Districts where candidates for the federal parliament are up for election are: Assiniboia, Sask., Prince County, P. E. I. Victoria and Carleton, N. B., Quebec, East Kingston, Ont., and Victoria, B. C.

"KISS ME AGAIN"

Tuneful Musical Comedy to be Presented at the New Park Friday Evening, Oct. 31

The following notice clipped from the Marquette Daily Mining Journal gives a resume of the comedy.

"Kiss Me Again," a musical comedy presenting Frederick V. Bowers, the music of which is by Frederick V. Bowers, and the enlivening spirit of which is also Frederick V. Bowers, entertained a capacity house last evening. The title is apropos of nothing, being that of one of the songs of that piece, and the plot concerns the deception which Capt. Bob Dudley, played by Mr. Bowers, practiced on a dotting old uncle. Delegated to report on a prospective bride of the said uncle, he found her a bewitching Miss, gave a most discouraging summary of her personality to uncle, and then calmly married her himself. Of course uncle turns up, and there ensues the usual musical comedy complications, while Dudley again to serve his musical comedy peridy. Mr. Bowers, who is received with much enthusiasm, is the life of the piece. After him the dancing team of Mooney and Capmen contributed most to the safety of the evening. The music is tuneful and the principals are supported by an attractive chorus.

At the Best Tonight and Tomorrow H. B. Warner, the distinguished actor whose screen productions have established him in strong public favor, has another excellent picture in "For a Woman's Honor," a Superior picture made by Jesse D. Hampton and distributed by Exhibitors Mutual. Robertson-Cole controls the world's rights.

The story is one of blackmail by an unscrupulous adventures, the intrigues of a villi oriental opium smuggler, and the self-sacrifice of a young English doctor who bore the stigma of a bigamist in his attempt to conceal what he believed to be the dishonor attached to the reputation of his fiancée's dead father.

Warner as Capt. Clyde Mannering, the young doctor, has excellent scope for his splendid talents, and he works convincingly. This splendid actor never overacts, but his work is none the less effective for his quiet, tense methods.

The production teems with color and action. The story starts out with a strong, dramatic situation, an adventures blackmailing the young physician by threatening to reveal a supposed scandal in the life of his fiancée's father. To protect his sweet-heart's name and that of her father, Mannering pays the woman her price only to find that his actions were misconstrued by the girl and her mother, who believe that the woman is his own wife whom he has put aside.

His affair broken off, Mannering goes to India. When the girl and her mother later arrive in India, he finds himself involved in a maze of intrigue, the denouement leading to a faithful end for the Oriental after a desperate fight with Mannering who has traced Helen to his house and rescues her.

Marguerite DeLaMotte plays opposite Warner, and makes a charming heroine. Others in the cast are Carmen Phillips, John Gilbert, Hector V. Sarno and Carl Stockdale.

At the Best Monday
 "In Search of Arcady," the latest production starring the mirthful Billie Rhodes, is a screen adaptation of the story of the same name by the popular writer of fiction, Nina Wilcox Putnam. Miss Putnam has written many successful novels and is a regular contributor to The Saturday Evening Post.

"In Search of Arcady," is regarded as the most entertaining of her books and has had a record-breaking sale. The popularity of the story augurs well for the reception accorded the picture, while those who enjoyed the fascinating story will not be disappointed when they see it on the screen.

In dramatizing it for the screen, John B. Clymer has succeeded in retaining the humorous and dramatic situations and at the same time giving a pictorial setting which enhances the delightful comedy by its sheer beauty and Arcadian atmosphere.

As Barbara Chichester, the pretty madcap daughter of an American millionaire, who detests any man with a title attached to his moniker—goes-a-Gyping and unwittingly falls in love with a real English earl who is "traveling" as a peddler—Miss Rhodes has a charming role which suits her admirably. The production is the best the vivacious Little star has made since "Hoop-La." It was produced by National Film Corporation and released by Exhibitors Mutual.

GRIZZLY IS FAST VANISHING

Final Disappearance of Really Noble Animal Will Be Regretted by All Who Know Him.

The grizzly bear has been known to the white race little more than a century. Lewis and Clark wrote the first official account of him in 1805, and he was first discussed publicly in 1814 by Gov. De Witt Clinton in New York city. Guthrie's geography says that he was named Ursus horribilis by Naturalist George Ord in 1815. Fossil records indicate that the grizzly is of Asiatic origin. He appears to have come into America about a million years ago over one of the pre-historic land bridges that united Alaska and Asia. Bears and dogs are descendants from the same parent stock. The grizzly bear never eats human flesh, is not ferocious and fights only in self-defense. He leads an adventurous life, is a born explorer and ever has good wilderness manners — never makes attacks. The numerous cases in which the grizzly has been made a pet and companion of man, where he was thoughtfully, intelligently raised, show him to be a superior animal, dignified, intelligent, loyal and uniformly good-tempered. Not a grizzly exists in any of the four national parks of California, and that animal, once so celebrated in that state, is extinct there. He is also extinct over the greater portion of the vast territory which he formerly occupied, and is verging on extermination.

Look and Feel

Clean, Sweet and

Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, biliousness, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

PUBLIC SAFETY FUND LOW

Believed People Generally will Vote for Increase as City Needs the Money

Following the appeal of the city council which cannot make both ends meet when it comes to doing business with the present public safety fund and which under present conditions will be depleted by February, the charter commission will meet Tuesday evening in the council room at the city hall and take up a charter amendment to assure more funds.

The council refused to reduce the police force or fire department in order to meet conditions. The council was of the opinion that the public will recognize that it costs more at present for employees of the city to live as it does for others and that citizens will not be willing to have fire and police protection curtailed, but will vote the necessary funds at a special election. A. J. Halsted is president of the charter commission and Louis Hohman secretary.

Washington, Oct. 27.—While waiting withdrawal of the soft coal miners order for a strike, government officials are scanning the situation insofar as the general public is concerned.

There are several opening through which the government may step in the coal contest.

An agency of the government made the first deal with the miners and President Wilson therefore considered the proposed strike as an unlawful one.

The food control act gives the government another opportunity for control, as it is illegal to interfere with production.

The United States supreme court gave a broad definition of the war powers of the government and plenty of cause for action, insofar as the government has the power to do almost anything for the nation's existence.

Government officials will not allow negotiations to lag when all parties concerned meet.

Farmer-Labor Government in Ontario Province

(By United Press) Toronto, Ontario, Oct. 27.—A united farmer-labor coalition government, according to a statement of Joseph Marks, provincial organizer, is indicated in provincial politics here as a result of several conferences held since election.

The coalition has 56 seats, or a majority of one over liberals, independents, etc.

Marks said the farmers had made a fair and square proposition to labor and that the idea was to keep tab on all legislation and legislators and see that they toed the mark, whenever labor or farm interests were concerned.

When a Child has Croup

Thousands of mothers say Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is the best remedy they know for croup, coughs and colds. It cuts the thick, choking mucus, clears away the phlegm, opens air passages and eases hoarseness. The gasping, trampling fight for breath gives way to quiet breathing and peaceful sleep. H. P. LOUIS KREIDLER RECITAL REVIEWED

Brainerd Shows its Appreciation of High Class Music by Largely Attending Concert

AUDIENCE WAS APPRECIATIVE

Finest Dramatic Work Shown in Singing Damrosch's "Danny Dever" an Original Interpretation

It was with fear and trembling that the Brainerd Musical club engaged the Park theatre for its first concert, the Louis Kreidler recital. Many of the board members honestly believed that there were not enough people in Brainerd who appreciated high class music to make a respectable audience. But they are very well satisfied now to be able to say: "I told you so", and those who were faint hearted are very glad that they had the courage of their convictions, and were able to persuade the other members to try the experiment.

Box office receipts speak louder than words and the single admissions amounted to $95, according to the tickets received at the door. If ten people were unable to use their tickets, it will bring the door receipts up to $100. This, with the 242 membership tickets, represents rather more than a respectable audience.

That the audience was appreciative was attested not only by the fact that it kept calling for more, and would not be satisfied until the artist had sung two encores to the last number, but by its attentiveness. It was an audience that was on the alert to catch every shade of the widely varying tone color of this rich baritone voice. Perhaps the most delicate shading was done in Luigi del caro bene, by Secchi, and some of the strongest contrasts were brought out by "The Horn," by Fleigler. But unquestionably the finest dramatic work was in the singing of Damrosch's "Danny Dever." Not even the old favorite Toreador Song exhibited the fine, dramatic feeling that characterized Danny Dever. Mr. Kreidler said that he worked on this song for years before he could sing it to suit himself, but when he finally brought his accomplishment up to his ideal, he made a reputation on the originality of his interpretation.

The accompanist, Miss Jenness, was all that could be desired as an accompanist, and the only thing that was the matter with her solo work was that there was not enough of it. The program was so strenuous, that Miss Jenness asked to be excused from playing her second number on the program. She gave a Romance, by Sibelius and her encore was March Mignon, by Boldini, both of which were well received.

The Park theatre has been engaged for the next concert, December 14, and if the public continues to show its appreciation of the best in music, the Musical club will feel encouraged to bring artists of still greater reputation to our city.

U. S. Negotiating for Great Dirigible

(By United Press) Washington, Oct. 27.—The United States will probably soon become the owner of one of the largest dirigibles which ever took the air, said Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

This will be the R-38, a sister ship of the R-34, which sailed from England to America and returned. Negotiations are now under way for the purchase of the monster aircraft. It has a gas capacity of 2,724,000 cubic feet. It is 694 feet long, 86 feet in diameter and 92 1/2 feet high and will be able to carry a useful load of 45 tons.

MINE WORKER OFFICIALS POWERLESS TO RESCIND THE STRIKE ORDER

the consequent suffering and distress of all our people, must be considered a grave moral and legal wrong against the government and the people of the United States. I can do nothing less than to say that law will be enforced and means will be found to protect the interests of the nation in any emergency that may arise out of this unhappy business.

I express no opinion on the merits of the controversy. I have already suggested a plan by which a settlement may be reached, and I hold myself in readiness at the request of either or both sides to appoint at once a tribunal to investigate all the facts, with a view to aiding in the earliest possible orderly settlement of the question at issue between the coal operators and the coal miners, to the end that the just rights not only of those interests, but also of the general public, may be fully protected.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

LABOR NEWS

ARE LABOR COSTS
THE CHIEF ITEM?

Resolution in Congress Is Designed to Disprove This "Vicious Fallacy."

INTRODUCED BY W. L. CARSS

Federation of Federal Employees Would Show That Wages Are Not the Chief Cause of High Cost of Living.

Representative William L. Carss of Minnesota, member of the house committee on labor, has introduced in congress, at the request of the National Federation of Federal Employees, a resolution which its advocates believe will effectually dispose of what they term the vicious fallacy that labor costs represent the chief item in the increased cost of living.

Just what does the labor cost amount to on the principal items in the cost of living? "The answer to that question," says Mr. Carss, "will put us in better position to deal effectively with the problem of the high cost of living, because it will help the people to protect themselves against the profiteers. At present almost anybody's statement about the cost of labor can get by, because the subject has not been studied. But there's something more than labor costs behind the fact that prices always rise before wages rise, and always rise far higher in proportion than wages.
We must go after the real cause, and not unthinkingly charge it all up to labor."

President Luther C. Steward of the National Federation of Federal Employees states that "in the cost of producing sugar, for example, according to the tariff commission, the cost of agricultural and factory labor was 42.4 per cent of the total cost of production in 1918. This is an industry of which the labor cost is relatively high. According to the department of commerce, of the cost of making men's shirts and collars the workers receive 25 to 35 per cent; on men's factory-made clothing the labor cost is 35 to 40 per cent; on knit goods, including hosiery and underwear, the labor cost is 29 per cent and on women's muslin underwear 22 to 25 per cent.

"These last figures are for 1918, but materials have continued to soar in price. We need more facts of this kind brought up to date. With such figures and a study of the income and excess profit tax returns it should be easy to locate the profiteers."

French Women in Trade Unions.

Trade union organization has been greatly advanced among French women during the war, according to Miss Marie Wing, who recently returned from France where, as a member of the Y. W. C. A. industrial commission, she investigated labor conditions among women. Miss Wing stated that French women have an entirely new realization of the many forms of work in which they can be useful.

"The question that is pressing now," says Miss Wing, "is whether the large number of French women who have been employed in munitions factories and have thus had the training and experience of working with modern industrial machinery in large plants will have opportunity for employment in similar large plants making peace-time products, or whether the trend of French industry will be to return to hand work."

"During this time of readjustment many women are out of employment and schemes are on foot to train former munitions workers for trades that are opening up."

Women in Labor Councils.

Serious consideration is being given in official circles in Washington to the question of representation of woman workers in both the national labor conference called by President Wilson to meet on October 6, and the international labor conference also called by the president under a provision of the peace treaty, to meet on October 29. The recognition given to women in the two conferences is expected to be a test of the permanency of the industrial advancement made by women during the war.

Three Laborers as Directors.

An innovation in the management of big American corporations will be inaugurated this fall when the Procter & Gamble company puts three laborers on the board of directors. The plan was announced by President W. C.
Phoctor.

The plan is said to be the outcome of the conference committee plan, inaugurated by the company a few years ago. Employees assist in the actual management and share all responsibility of the management.
